

THE HASHLESS TIMES

So here we are; once again Hashless. A hurriedly cobbled together Tier 4 has been thrown, like a suffocating, dark mantle, over Berkshire and various other counties and towns. Just before Christmas. I know we all have our own thoughts about the effectiveness, timing and Government efficiency based around the various lockdowns so the Gobsheet doesn't need to provide an editorial view. Suffice it to say that the latest restrictions have again stopped BH³ from Hashing.

However, one of our number has altruistically decided to lay a non-BH³ Trail on Christmas Day for anyone who would like to run round it. Twanky advised the following:-

Hashy Christmas ... one and all.

I had initially offered to help Santa MotoxClaus lay a trail on Christmas Morning but the Tier4 restrictions means that's no longer a Hashing event.

I have decided (with some expertly guidance by Mr Blobby) to still lay the planned trail from the car park just off Goring Lane as planned for anyone needing to get out of Lockdown Scenario.

The trail should be available from 10am Christmas Day ... one blob and on.

Christmas Day Run

"Doggy" Car Park off Goring Lane, just West of Hollybush Lane, Burghfield Common RG7 3FL

Please abide by the Tier4 exercise regulations and hope you have a safe Festive Season.

See you all soon

Twanky

What a chap! If any of you who run Twanky's Trail would like to tell the Gobsheet about their experience (with some photos if possible) we will be happy to publish the details. Enjoy and stay safe if you go.

SUPPORT DOGS – AQUA AND JJ'S COLLECTION

Many of you have seen the email from Aqua and JJ regarding this collection for charity. For those who haven't, the two of them asked for donations for this very worthwhile cause at the recent BLT and following Hash, raising £125 from generous BH³ members and their friends. They both thank all who donated. The dogs provide much-needed support and companionship to people with autism, epilepsy and physical disability. If anyone wants more details of the work done by the charity or would like to make a personal donation, the website is www.supportdogs.org.uk

BH³ GM NEWS

The Gobsheet is pleased to report that the transfer of power between the outgoing (SkinnyDipper) and incoming (Rampant) GM now seems to be progressing smoothly. SkinnyDipper has decided not to pursue the litigation trail in an attempt to overturn the result of the closely contested recent election.

Your reporter understands that Skinny and her battered band of die-hard supporters originally blamed postal voting and 'rigged' electronic voting machines for the failure to win, blaming Chinese subterfuge in the recent U.S. hacking debacle (rather than Russian).

Skinny's Tweets regarding 'fake results' and those including the phrase, 'I won big' have recently been subject to Twitter warnings regarding, at the least, inaccuracy and at the worst, downright calumny.

At last, now, handover briefings are beginning to take place and the Gobsheet understands that the GM tie and briefcase, symbols of the high office, will formally be given over to the new administration as soon as they can be, as Skinny Tweeted, 'prised from my cold, dead hand'. Rampant responded to this Tweet that he, 'would be happy to bring a crowbar to facilitate the event'.

CHRISTMAS

It's going to be a strange Christmas this year. Many will be stuck on their own or unable to be with their family and/or friends. Many of us will be wishing it is April or May next year and all, or most, of this pandemic and its associated negative fallout is behind us.

The spirit of Christmas is very similar to that of BH³ and Hashing. It's all about celebration, family, friendship, welcoming strangers, caring about others and having fun. We are lucky enough to have these things every week, when we are Hashing. We may not be meeting and running Trails at the moment but our spirit and sense of belonging is strong.

If you are on your own and/or unable to be with those you love I'm sure that everyone in BH³ sends their best wishes and a virtual festive hug.

The Gobsheet editor and staff certainly do. 😊

Merry Christmas everyone and a happier and safe New Year!

Take good care of yourselves.
