

SAD HASH NEWS

It was with much sadness that we learned that C4 (Sue Sinclair) passed away this week. Sue was clever, quick-witted, fun to be with and a very capable lady. Her cooking and catering skills were legendary, as those people lucky enough to attend the Moonlight Hash at her and C5's house last year will agree. She seemingly effortlessly put together and served a delicious set of hot and cold food, despite not feeling too well – her cancer had not been diagnosed at that time. Her Dundee cake would have had even Paul Hollywood bowing to her in admiration. She baked one for Whinge some time ago and, even now when it is mentioned, he gets a faraway look in his eye and a smile of contentment.

Our thoughts and prayers go out to C5 and Sue's family. Particularly to C5, who nursed and cared for Sue and who has now lost his wife and closest friend.

Due to the current Governmental rules on social distancing and self-isolation we will not be able to pay our respects personally so I hope this short piece illustrates to C5 the affection BH³ members have for Sue, how much we will miss her and how much we care about him.

C5 - Our sympathy and very best wishes and we very much look forward to seeing you when we can Hash again.

BH3 HASH BLOG

Just a short piece this week.

During this time of social distancing I can report that Rampant (pictured right) ran around Didcot on Sunday, wearing the 'La Pecarina' apron with which he had been presented. I assume Dunny took the photo.

As we all know, getting some exercise is really important during this time of near lockdown and I hope other people are managing to get out (safely, of course) and do something.

The Gobsheet will still be produced and published weekly while we soldier through this state of emergency; but will have different content to the usual pamphlet. If you have anything you would like included please send it (ideally in Word format) to the email address on the first page.

Lastly, a huge shout-out to all NHS staff and volunteers, two of whom are BH³ members. Swallow and Slips – thanks and take care.

Keep safe everyone.
